

A Few Updates To Share!

2-10-13

A new Amish horse, a Standardbred (buggy horse), will be arriving at Happy Trails on Monday. What will he or she look like? Check back next week for a photo of our newest resident.

Sadie is getting adopted! This beautiful mare who was rescued from the Mt. Hope Auction in October 2012, had eye surgery to remove her ruptured eye. She made a remarkable recovery. A truly wonderful person is adopted this sweet mare who deserves a caring and loving family for the rest of her life, and Sadie leaves us today (Sunday morning! Congratulations Sadie!

Happy Trails tote bags are now available for $5. Be sure to stop by the Happy Trails office Monday through Friday from 10:00 to 4:30 to pick one up! Support the animals and be environmentally responsible when doing your grocery shopping! Also great for school and toting around your "stuff"!

Purchase a half-bale of straw to keep a rescued animal warm this winter! Happy Trails just bought a semi-load of straw last week to use for bedding to keep the animals warm during these bitter cold winter months. This is what $5,000 worth of bedding looks like coming in on a semi-truck. One of these giant bales cost us $80 (plus delivery). Please consider purchasing a half of a bale of straw to help bed the animal shelters. Keep a rescued farm animal warm while they are in recovery with a tax-deductible donation, which can be sent to: Happy Trails, 5623 New Milford Rd., Ravenna, Ohio 44266, and mark your donation "for straw".