

Glitzy

Is Recovering After Surgery

Gotta Love Her!

Glitzy the baby pot belly pig was found in Cleveland during a recent bitter cold snowstorm.

Her ribs were clearly visible. She was emaciated and freezing to death. No one was sure if she would make it. While at the Cleveland APL, the baby began to recover. They named her Glitzy. Several weeks ago Glitzy was brought to Happy Trails and is in our foster care program as a very pampered indoor piggy. This past week she was spayed, vaccinated, dewormed, and had her hooves trimmed at the Barberton Veterinary Clinic. These photos are of Glitzy recovering on her pink bed with her very own special blankets. Her spay surgery and medical updates were $649. Holy cow! We would very much appreciate any donations toward her medical expenses. Tax deductible donations can be made to Happy Trails at the address below, or you can donate via PayPal on our website at happytrailsfarm.org or by calling the office with a VISA, MC or AmEx at 330-296-5914.

Glitzy is now available for adoption! She is already potty trained and goes outside to go potty. Her requirements are that she lives indoors in a house and has a fenced-in yard for her safety. Someone who is home most of the time would be best for this adorable little girl. Call Happy Trails for more info at 330-296-5914.

